BA LLB; Entrepreneurial Growth Forum (London Business School); ACC (Associate Coaching Course)

Debbie is the founder and CEO of Jack Hammer, the largest executive search firm in Africa.

Jack Hammer consults to some of the region's top corporations, as well as global private equity and debt investors in Africa – helping them find great leaders for executive and board appointments.

Her latest start-up business is Virtual Coaching Partners, a unique digital platform that connects people who are in career transition with world class career coaches, globally.

She has recently published her first book, “IntheFlow – Taking Mindfulness to Work”, which was listed in the ‘Top 10 Best’ South African business books. She delivers keynotes and workshops on Mindfulness globally, introducing the concept and practices to both curious beginners and advanced practitioners.

Her next book, ‘Storytelling – the Key to Unlocking a High Performance Culture’ is to be published in 2019.

Debbie is a founding member of EO Cape Town, and she currently serves on EO's Global Leadership Development Sub-Committee.
